Patina

23/10/2008 — Basic techniques

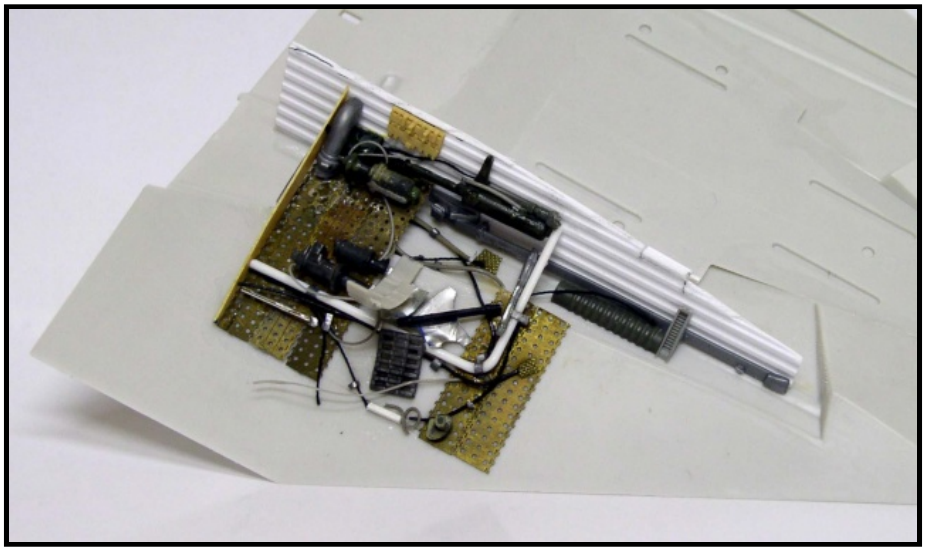

Exemple de travail progressif qui montre le détaillage à base de peinture à l'huile Humbrol... Le modèle monté prêt à recevoir la peinture. On passe une couche d'apprêt blanc avant les premières couches de peinture. Indispensable quand il y a des pièces en métal... Couche de peinture à base de 10...

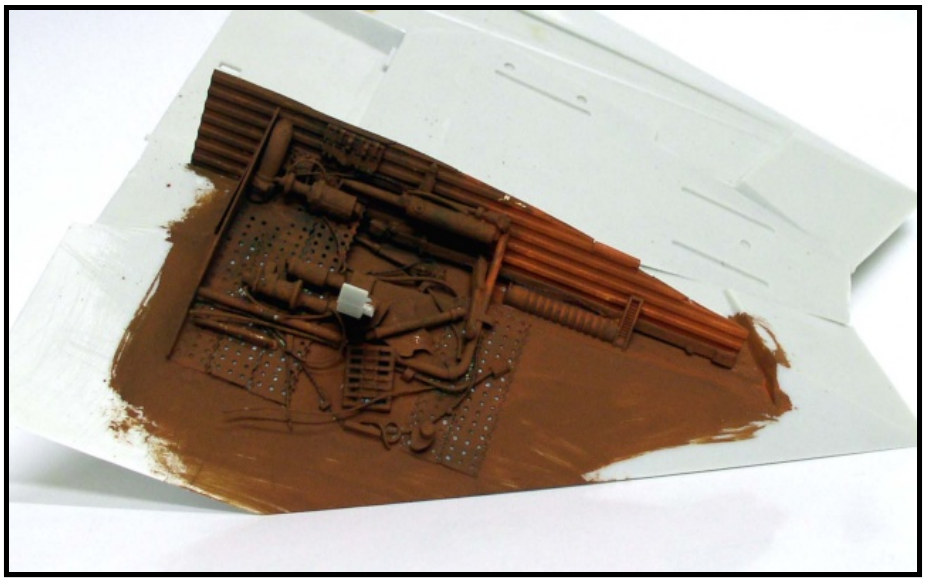

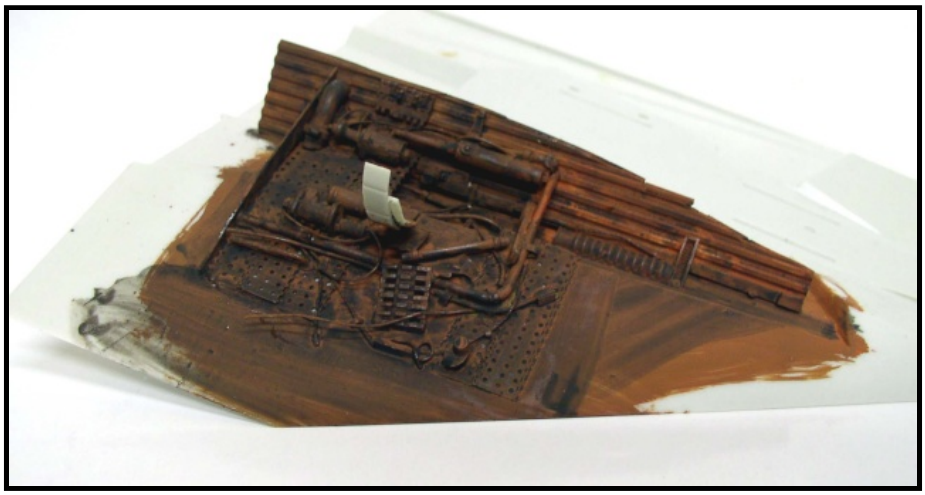

An example of a step-by-step project demonstrating detailing using Humbrol oil-based paint...

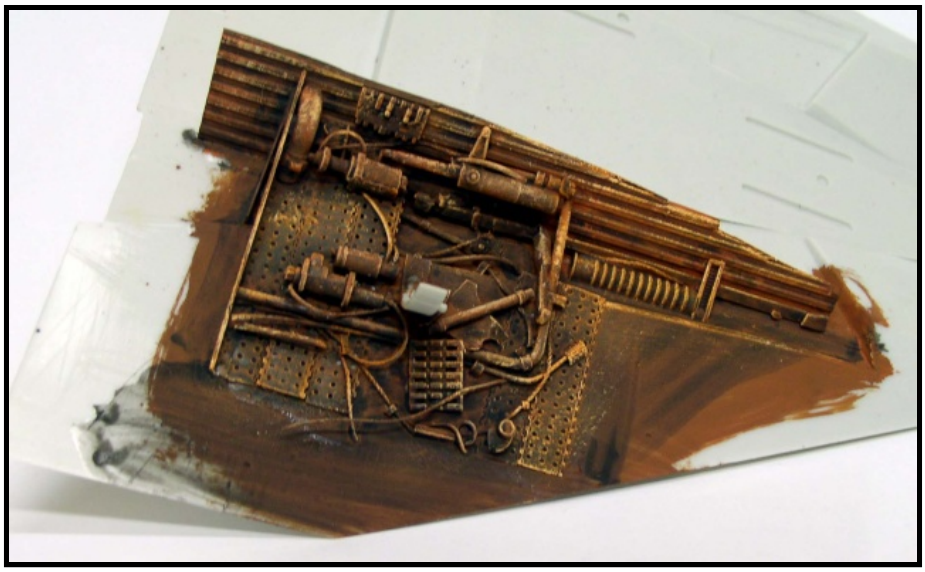

The model is assembled and ready for painting. Apply a coat of white primer before applying the first layers of paint. This is essential when there are metal parts...

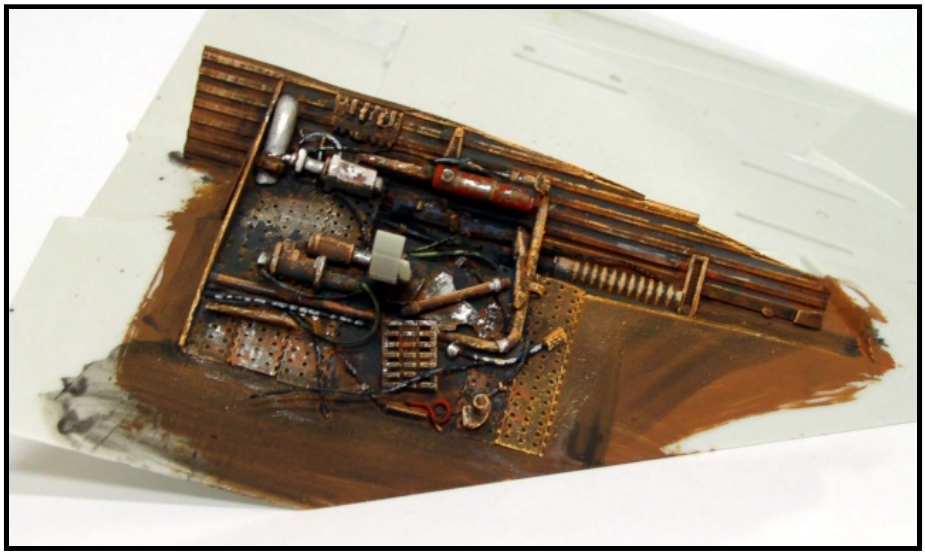

A coat of 100% matte black paint...

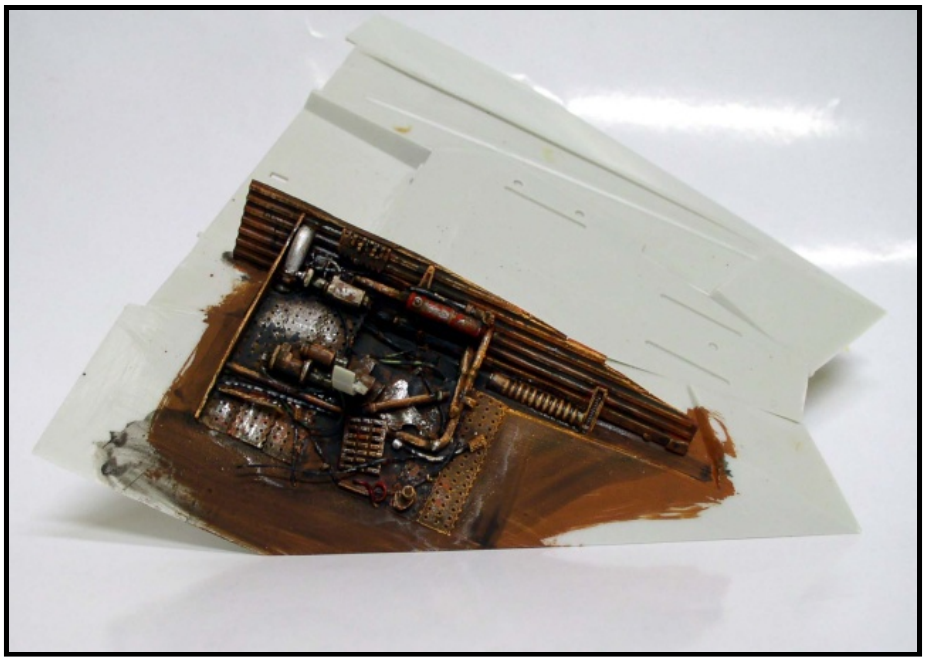

Once it is completely dry, apply a very diluted mixture of matte black and 98 chocolate...

After at least 24 hours, dry brush starting with 100, 63, 93, and matte white...

Detailed painting of small parts, including cables... Once completely dry, dry-brushing metal effects using silver and matte black...

Chipped effects created with a fine brush using silver and matte black. Then, after 24 hours, diluted paint applied with a fine brush to add more shading...

